When asked what triggers you, we always repeat ourselves. You can feel it in the air, the electricity, the excitement. Its like we developed a six sense to captivate this energy. The hardest part is how you translate this feeling into a new collection or a new piece of furniture. This is where you need to be true to your esthetique, when you need to know what you stand for.

A close-up photograph of several decorative pillows. The top pillow features a complex, repeating geometric pattern in yellow and white. Below it, another pillow has a similar pattern but with a different color scheme. The bottom-most pillow is covered in a bold, vertical yellow and white striped pattern. The pillows are stacked and slightly overlapping, creating a sense of depth and texture. The background is a neutral, light-colored surface.
